Dear Diary,

I was feeling really bad when I was sitting in the opening of the tent. I was really happy that the three geists came to my tent. I feel really thankful that, I cleaned the geists feet. I hope that the geists were clean for a while when I cleaned the geists. I'm happy that the geists came for a big feast. I will wondering if the cow was good or great. I hope that the tree was whiff shade for the three geists. I hope you can come to my tent another time, and if so I will make more cow and clean you again.

Until Next Time,

Avraham

Dear Diary,

I am feeling stressed because it is hard having 3 people staying at your house. I mean at least I don't have to cook but I had to greet them, get the cattle, serve the 3 men, and more. It is hard and I am happy because it is nice to do for the 3 people. Tomorrow I am looking forward to resting and kicking back.

Until Next Time,

Dear Diary,

When the 3 guests came I ran out to them because its always friendly to greet someone. I had to help them it was so hot out side I brought them out to the most shade tree so they can cool off and I washed their feet because the sand is burning hot. I pickt out the most tender cow and ask my made to cook it with butter and milk. The 3 people have must bin hungry after all that travel. I really hope they enjoy the food.

Until Next Time,

Dear Diary,

Today I was sitting outside my tent. It was so hot! But you'll never ever ever in the history of the UNIVERSE believe what I saw! 3 men were coming towards me, in the middle of Moaze! I was sooooo excited! I finally had some guests! I had been bored all day, and now I finally had something to do! I cooked a better stew (well my servant did, but I told her to, got some butter milk, and made some bread (this time I made it). I'm a bit worried because the tent might or becom has collapsed, and the food might or not been to their taste. At least I tried!

Until Next Time,

Dear Diary,

I wasn't expecting to have Guests but I was happy. It was very tiring I can't wait to just lay down. I like these guests they are fine.
I was glad the steak cooked quickly and I hope the milk was not rotten. But I think they liked it. I was in a rush so badly.
I was so excited that I ran to them.

Until Next Time,

Avraham
