

Religion in Massachusetts by Jonathan

Are you looking for a religious community? Then head on into Massachusetts. Here in Massachusetts we have very strict rules but you can live with it. There is so much religion here in Massachusetts. And do you really want to stay here because here it's like colonial paradise and so much religion in here it's crazy. And sometimes we would whip your kids with sticks. Oh and boys, you're not aloud long hair at all, and couples, you're not aloud to kiss in public.

Children in Delaware by Odelia

Children have a good life in Delaware. They are very helpful they help with community services and other things in the community. Children also have good education in Delaware. They learn reading and writing .The children all learn in the same room so they make many friends. Children also help all around the house. If you live on a farm, your children can weed the gardens, care for the animals, and more. Helping around the house gives the children responsibilities to prepare for the life ahead of them. Come to Delaware where your children will have a great life.

Colonial Life in Massachusetts by Ronin

There is a lot of work and other things to be done for us people in Massachusetts. Men clear land for farming and building homes for the family. Men farm many things although the soil here is hard and full of rocks. Women in Massachusetts spin flax to make linen, make clothes, cook and care for children. Women use vegetables, fruits and flowers to dye close and cook food for the family. Children help their parents and go to strict schools. Children do basicly the same work but not as much like getting water from rivers, caring for animals, farming and cooking. Although there is a lot of work to be done, work always pays off here.

Weather in New York by Jaden

Weather in New York isn't too shabby. Summers are very hot in New York, so if you're looking for a warm place, be sure to come! Summers here are the best for growing crops! Winters can get very cold so remember to bring your best gear and best food because you're going to need it!

Work and Trade in Georgia by Geffen

There are a lot of jobs in Georgia. You can be a farmer and plant rice and indigo if you want to live by the water. If you don't want to live by the water, you can grow wheat, corn and peas. In Georgia you can also raise cattle, pigs, and horses. If you want to get lumber, there are large forests for you. If you don't like farming, there are still great jobs for you in Georgia. There are many more jobs available like bricklayers, bakers, and shoemakers. You could even use all of the lumber to be a carpenter or a woodcutter. You can move to Georgia today and get a job very easily.

Family Life in Connecticut by Gabby

You're thinking to move to a colony, well come and move to Connecticut. In Connecticut, mothers take care of the home. Children help by doing chores and men farm corn, pumpkins, beans, blueberries, strawberries and nuts. If you have a big family, Connecticut is the place for you! The children will play and the mother will take care of their home, but everyone in the family will be contributing.