

Alexander Hamilton

Did you ever wonder who made paper money? It was Alexander Hamilton. He was famous for many reasons one reason is he was George Washington's right hand man. He was a orphan who became a founding father. One more reason is he made the 1st bank with paper money.

Alexander Hamilton was born on January 11 1755. He had a brother named James. His father left him when he was 10. His mother raised him until she died. He got sick but recovered. His mother also got sick but she sadly died.

Alexander Hamilton joined the revolution and commanded in the battle of Yorktown. He made the 1st bank with paper money it was in Philadelphia. He also became a founding father.

Alexander Hamilton made money as you know it. He also helped George Washington a lot in the government. He also helped make the government.

Anne Frank

By: Pemberley

5/24/18

Anne Frank had a diary that had a lot of interesting stories about her life and the war. Anne included details about her life in hiding and her diary. Anne also was in the war so Anne had experience that other people didn't. After the war her diary was published.

Anne Frank was born in Germany on June 12, 1929. Anne had an older sister Margot. Anne's family moved to Amsterdam on June 12, 1934. The Franks moved to Amsterdam because of the Nazis. On June 12, 1942 on Anne's birthday she received a diary for her 13th birthday. Anne filled up her diary in two years so she wrote on paper to continue writing.

The Franks went into hiding on July 6, 1942. There was another family the Vanpeles and a man Fritz Pfeffer. All of were sent to a concentration camp where Anne died on march 1945. Anne's dad survived and published Anne's diary on june 3, 1945. It was translated in more than 50 languages.

Anne was in the holocaust so you should remember her. Anne wrote a famous diary that taught us details of the war. Anne was 15 when she died and Anne didn't deserve to die.

By: Ari

5-24-18

Steve Jobs

Did you know that Steve Jobs went to work shoeless? There are many reasons why Steve Jobs is famous one is that he invented the Apple company. Steve also made the iPhone. Steve also changed the way the world communicates.

Steve was born in February 24, 1955 and he grew up in the Silicon Valley. He loved machines and his dad's job was to fix machines. He went to Reed College and had to sleep on the floor.

In 1974 Steve works for Atari in India. He and his friend Steve Wozniak started the first computer. The first computer was a good selling computer. Steve marries Laurene Powell and his son Reed Paul Jobs is born in 1991.

Steve Jobs is an amazing person who changed the world. You should remember him because he cared about the world and invented Apple.

Orli

2-23-18

Helen Keller

Did you know that Helen Keller was blind and deaf but she accomplished as much as people who can see and hear?

Helen Keller published many books about her life and she couldn't even see what she was writing! She also learned to read, write and even speak! Helen graduated college as the first blind and deaf person to earn a arts degree.

Helen Keller was born on June 27 1880 and grew up with her mom and dad. When Helen was 19 months old she got either scarlet fever or meningitis. This left her deaf and blind. When Helen was 6 her parents contacted the Perkins Institute because her parents couldn't control Helen any more. So they found a teacher named Anne Sullivan.

When Helen Keller was 7 years old Anne Sullivan came to Helen's house to become her teacher. Guess what? Helen's dad wanted Anne to leave but Helen's mom didn't allow it. In 1903 Helen published the Story of my Life. People loved the book and it became a bestseller. Helen Keller died on June 1 1968 in her sleep.

We should remember Helen Keller because she proves to us that people with disabilities can do many things. We should also remember her because she wrote very good books. Also she had many roles in her life. She was a writer, a lecturer, a performer and a activist.

John F. Kennedy

By: Yonah _____

Did you know John was the youngest and first Catholic president ever elected? John F. Kennedy was the 35th president of the United States of America. He was also a World War II hero who saved his crewmen when the boat that John was captain of called PT-109. John stopped Cuba from launching missiles at the U.S.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy was born May 29th, 1917. When he was born he had one older brother and over the years he got many more younger siblings. One day when was young, he and his older brother went head first towards each other on bikes and crashed head first which caused John to need 28 stitches but his older brother Joe Jr. needed nothing. That crash caused John to have bad headaches when he got older. JFK graduated from Harvard university in 1940. He was on the swim club at Harvard and almost never missed practice even if he was sick.

In 1960, John F. Kennedy was elected 35th president of the United States of America. His vice president was Lyndon B. Johnson. In 1953 John married Jacqueline Bouvier. John was also president when the Bay of Pigs invasion failed.

We should remember John F. Kennedy because he made peace with Cuba. He also saved a man with swimming skills by carrying a man on his back and swimming to the nearest island when his boat that he was captain of got hit called PT-109. John was assassinated at about age 46 by a man named Lee Harvey Oswald.